

How come every time 'they' win an Election, we citizens feel beaten?

Why are we wedded to such a flawed system?
Especially when these serial arranged marriages are based on lies?

As with all things political, nothing is quite what we're led to believe, and Left and Right aren't what you think.

It is all spin, and they take turns to ring fence their interests.

You can't actually take sides, because they aren't opposed.

Left and Right don't channel our interests. They're playing a game. A game of tug of war with our future at stake, and only they know the ropes. If they offer us any sort of deal, there are strings attached. As far as they're concerned we can get knotted... things just get tighter and tighter.

For us.

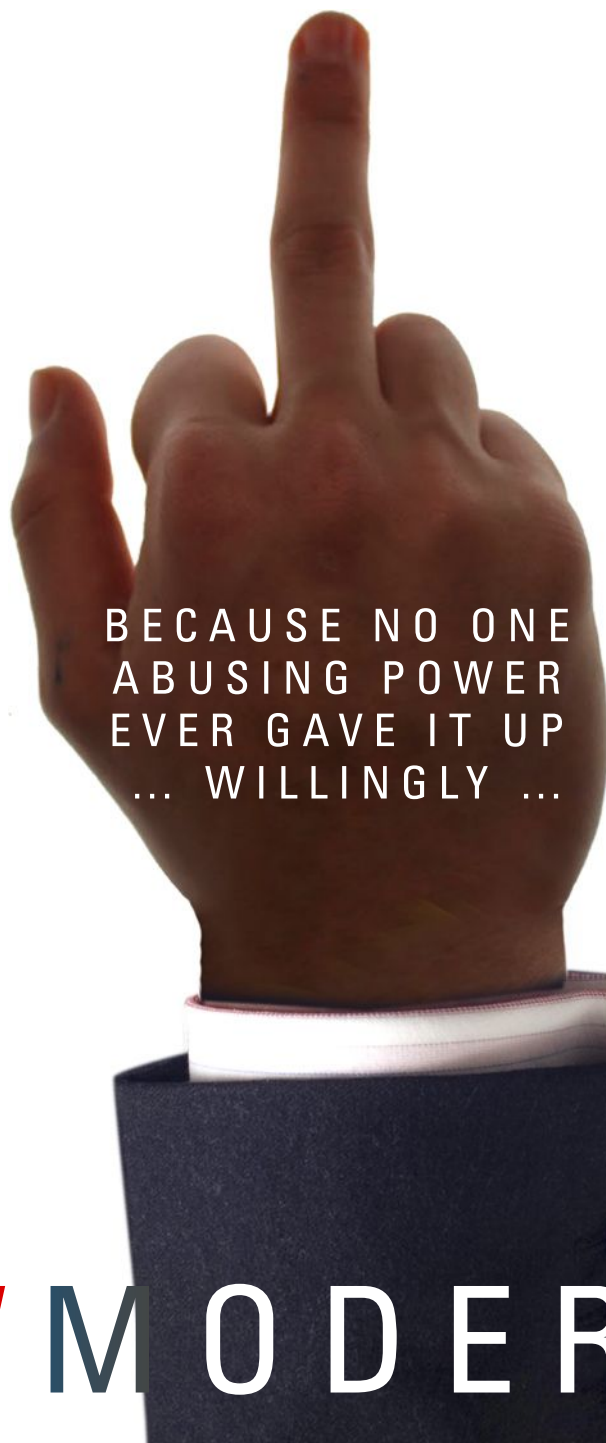

As you've long since suspected, the main parties are married to one aim. To achieve office. The EU was created to creat more offices, not to serve.

Once ensconced, they then discover a series of inherited facts and figures that prevent them from delivering anything on our behalf. All promises become replaced with miserliness. One group has to tighten their belts.

Yep ... us.

We're lead to believe that only the ruling classes were inbred to lead. We aren't qualified to understand their complicated Government, and are destined to be mislead.

Do you feel it's right that the richer make us poorer? Do you worry about sickness when they're destroying your National Health whilst claiming to be in our service?

BECAUSE NO ONE
ABUSING POWER
EVER GAVE IT UP
... WILLINGLY ...
