

#Boycott Banks! Perish the thought, or perish the planet?

Does the very thought make you shudder? How would you pay your bills and taxes, or pay for your groceries?

Your elected leaders, bought and paid for indirectly by the highest tier bankers in the world, frighten you into thinking their way by telling you things are complex.

From the earliest age, when you're innocent and impressionable, State education teaches you ... NOT to think for yourself.

If you learned to think for yourself you could become dangerous and question the status quo ... and then what do you know, these elected leaders might have to go.

When you buy insurance you pay a retail price. The retail insurer has their risk underwritten by firms who re-insure your policy.

Banks work along the same lines. As huge as the four clearing banks seem to be to you, compared to your paltry earnings, and savings, upon which they currently pay you an even paltrier interest, they're small fry compared to the shark-like super-leviathans. These financiers have backed the winning side in wars by removing any risk. They backed both sides. They have neither social conscience or public interest at heart ... they exist only to accrue interest on money and ultimately physical assets.

The Truth Is ... Banks don't want your cash (it's worthless). They want you to default on debt so they can take anything you have of real value.

NEW MODERATES

We don't want to control anything that's rightfully yours ...
including democracy.